THE COMMONWEALTH. FRANKFORT.

THOMAS M. GREEN, Editor.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1860.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the Opposition meeting on Saturday was attended by a respectable number of citizens, and there was every indication of good feeling and a determination to go into the coming struggle with undiminished ardor. We commend the resolutions to the consideration of patriotic men of all parties, whose approbation they cannot fail to meet. The declaration in favor of the Union of the States is worthy of the men who passed it. The threats against the Union seldom, if ever, proceed from the Southern Opposition and rarely fail to meet with their unqualified condemnation.

One of the resolutions speaks in deservedly complimentary terms of Hon. J. J. Crittenden, and expresses a preference for him for the Presidency, but also a perfect willingness to support any conservative man upon whom the strength of Union loving patriots throughout the country can best be rallied. Mr. Crittenden's distinguished public services, his unwavering attachment to the principles set forth in the resolutions, his high character for patriotism and unspiced honor, all entitle him to this mark of regard from those who have known him long and loved him well as gentleman and friend. If the National Convention select him as their standard bearer, no one can bear it more gallantly, and certainly there is no one whom we would more cordially support.

For the Commonwealth.

What is there in a Name?

I answer very much. A common saying, a simple piece of wit, when uttered by some great personage, will be caught up and echoed through out the land.

When sentiments or actions worthy of a hero, a patriot or a statesman, may be uttered or performed by the common man, and they pass away unheeded and are soon forgotten. Such were the thoughts impressed upon my mind in reflecting upon an incident in my own family history. I was a little boy—but little boys have their feelings—and an impression made upon their young and plastic minds, will there remain, despite the cares of life, or the leveling plough share of time.

It was a bright sunny evening in the month of September. We had committed our brother to the cold keeping of the grave. Friends had taken their tearful adieu, and left us a mourning and a mournful family. The last one had departed, and left none behind to soothe the lacerated hearts of that humble dwelling, from whose loved old walls that day had been borne to the grave its noblest and best.

My father was walking to and fro in the yard, when my departed brother's horse coming up put his head over the fence and neighed to him. The old man noticed it, and walking to him put his arm over his neck, "Bob," said he, "your master is not here," and burst in tears. The noble horse seemed to understand the language addressed to him, and humbly bowed his head, as if to mingle his tears with those of his old master, who was weeping on his neck. But that scene, that picture, that proud horse, standing with bowed head; that old grey haired man, weeping on the neck of his dead child's horse, will never be erased from the tablet of my memory. I have been young, and mingled with the giddy and the gay, but often would recur to my mind that scene, and the words, "Bob, your master is not here." And "not here" is the venerable man who spoke those memorable words, that old grey headed man is "not here." Bob is "not here," his master is "not here," and "not here" will soon be said by the last one that heard and witnessed that scene.

But that action been performed by one of earth's great ones, poet, painter, and historian would have labored to perpetuate and immortalize it. But old Thomas Taylor was a plain farmer, and the noble deed was soon forgotten. But rest thee, thou venerable man! Proud and I of that simple act of thine that I would be to see thy name enrolled among the faring aspirants for political fame.

OUTALISSI.

The closing years of life are often rendered wretched by ailments which are trifling in themselves and easily cured if taken in time. Affection of the liver, stomach, and other organs concerned in digestion, are the most frequent. They naturally make the sufferer nervous, irritable and complaining, and relatives and friends are forced to bear the brunt of their ill humor. The use of Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters will prove an efficient remedy for this evil. It will not only strengthen the whole physical organization, but entirely cure the most obstinate cases of Indigestion, Diarrhea, Dysentery, and Liver Complaint. The first physicians in the country are loud in their praise of this preparation. Another recommendation of the Bitters is that it is so palatable to the taste that it may be used even as a beverage.

Sold by all druggists in Frankfort.

The New York Herald declares that in New York city "not only does the Southern trade upon its usual briskness, but it was observed that the purchases are much larger than those made in any former years. Whilst Western men are buying but little, the Southern merchants seem to be investing all the cash that they can spare in goods which are evidently in demand for present demand." And are all the resolutions and promises recently made at the South to end in this?

The following passed the House of Delegates of the Maryland Legislature on Thursday: WHEREAS, It appears by the public press of the country that the Governor of Maryland has placed this State in a false position by presenting his congratulations to Mr. Pennington, of New Jersey, a Black Republican, upon his election to the distinguished position of Speaker of the House of Representatives; it is therefore ordered that a committee of three be appointed by the Speaker of this House to inquire of his Excellency, Gov. Hicks, whether his congratulations were presented at all, and, if so, whether privately or officially.

Take the hand of the friendless, smile to the sad and dejected; sympathize with those in trouble; strive everywhere to diffuse around you sunshine and joy. If you do this you will be sure to be beloved.

Opposition Meeting in Franklin.

The Opposition of Franklin county met at the Court House, in the city of Frankfort, on Saturday, February 18th, at 1 o'clock, for the purpose of appointing delegates to the approaching 23d February Convention.

On motion of Capt. H. I. Todd, Richard Gillespie was called to the Chair, who, in a few remarks, announced the object of the meeting.

John M. Harlan, J. D. Pollard, H. I. Todd, E. Keenon and R. K. Woodson were appointed a committee to prepare and report resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting, who, after retiring, reported the following:

Resolved, by the friends of the Union in the county of Franklin, That we hail with delight and satisfaction the recent movements in the North and in the South in behalf of the Union of these States.

Resolved, That, in accordance with the precepts of the immortal Washington, we regard the unity of the American Government as the main pillar in the edifice of our real independence, the support of our tranquility at home, our peace abroad, our safety, our prosperity, and of that liberty which every American citizen so highly prizes. That we will cherish, as loyal, loyal, and immovable attachment to the American Union, recognizing ourselves to be and speak of it as a palladium of our safety and prosperity; watching for its preservation with jealous anxiety; discountenancing whatever may be abandoned; and indignantly frowning upon the first dawning of every attempt to alienate any portion of our country from the rest, or to entangle the sacred ties which now link together the various parts.

Resolved, That whatever may be the course pursued by other States during the present critical condition of our country, the friends of the Union, in either section, may rest assured that Kentucky will be the last to give up the Union. She is willing to unite with national and conservative men, wherever they may be found, in support of the Union and the Constitution as they were established by our fathers—in the enforcement of all the guarantees and compromises of that constitution, and of all the laws which may be passed in pursuance thereof.

Resolved, That the demonstrations by the people in this and other States in behalf of our distinguished fellow citizen, Hon. John J. Crittenden, for the Presidency of the United States, meets our unqualified approbation. While we will cordially support any other national and conservative man, we yet declare our decided preference for John J. Crittenden as the standard bearer of the friends of the Union in the approaching momentous struggle. His whole life has been dedicated to his country's service, and his course as an American statesman gives ample assurance that it elevated to the Chief Magistracy of this nation he will, in the administration of the Government, know "no North, no South, no East, no West," nothing but his common country.

Resolved, That Robert P. Letcher, Orlando Brown, G. W. Craddock, Wm. Hall, Chas. Penn, James D. Brown, H. B. Innis, John R. Scott, James Harlan, John Rodman, F. Swiger, A. T. Barnard, G. W. Berry, W. ANOTHER ATTRACTION.—Under this head the Richmond Whig of Tuesday says:

We were never more gratified than we are now in announcing it as probable that the Hon. John J. Crittenden, the distinguished and eloquent orator and statesman of Kentucky, will be with us on our Convention on the 23d of February. To hear an address from such a man at such a time, and upon such themes as now treat the public mind, is worth traveling hundreds of miles. We do hope that every Whig in the Commonwealth, who possibly can do so, will attend the Opposition Convention on the 23d, and enjoy the rich and glorious treat that is in store for him.

Come one, come all!

Mothers need no longer dread those scourges of childhood, intestinal worms. Dr. John Bull's Vegetable Worm Destroyer is certain death to all the tribe—while so pleasant are the candy-drops in which the medicine is prepared, that children actually cry for them, and prefer them to candy.

Shelby County Union Meeting.

At a meeting of the Union party, of Shelby county, held at the Court House in Shelbyville, on Monday, February 13, 1860, JAMES L. CALDWELL, Esq., was called to the Chair, and R. W. Davis appointed Secretary.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the citizens of Shelby county assembled in this meeting, promulgate the following propositions, as expressive of their opinions on public affairs:

1. The Government of the United States is one of limited powers, created by a compact between sovereign States, which compact is the Constitution. The Federal power is a trust established for the benefit of all the States of the Confederacy; and is to be exercised for the protection of those rights of property and person recognized and existing in each of the several States. This power is to be administered on the principle of the complete equality of the States; and when it is exerted so as to discriminate in its degree against the institutions of any one of the States, the Constitution is violated, and such Federal action is a departure from the principles of the framers of that instrument; at war with the spirit in which this Confederacy was founded, and destructive of its happiness, prosperity and unity.

2. The Republican organization proposes Federal legislation repugnant to these interpretations of the Constitution, and the just equality of the States. The same political party, in its plan of operations and its resources, is rendered ten fold more pernicious and dangerous than it otherwise would be. Their only resource is the anti-slavery feeling of the North; and in the nature of the case, by reason of the necessities that surround them, their only hope of success is an appeal to the passions and prejudices of those who entertain anti-slavery opinions. The inevitable result of this will be the engendering of such bitterness and hostility of feeling against slaveholders, on the part of those who may be embraced by the influence of this formidable anti-slavery movement, that the institution will be disturbed, and rendered insecure in the States; and the rights of slaveholders will be continued.

3. The rights of individuals, aggression, stimulated by the undue excitement produced by the Republican organization. We, therefore, regard the present attitude of this party as one of assault, on the institution of slavery, and the rights of slaveholders, in the Territories, and of attack, indirectly, on the same institution and rights in the States. We, therefore, most oppose this, or any other political party, marked by such odious intolerance, and announcing such hateful doctrines, with unabated vigor, so long as these erroneous opinions shall be insisted on.

4. We recognize in the past history of the Democratic party—or rather the political organization arrogantly appropriating that name—the origin of the evils that now distract the harmony, and threaten the existence of the Republic. To the doctrines and practice of this body we are indebted for the miserable and dangerous heresy of nullification—the pretended right asserted for a State to nullify without revolution an act of Congress. From the same source springs the disorganizing and revolutionary regard of the adjudications of the Courts, State and Federal, now so prevalent in the land—likewise the corruption that attends popular elections, and which has penetrated the public office, and marred its administration. To the same influence, so long predominant in our public affairs, is attributable the continued agitation, for partisan purposes, of the exciting question of slavery, which has at length resulted in the present unhappy and ominous condition of popular sentiment and feeling—dividing it into sectional differences and disputes. Whatever may be the present conservative professions of that party, its past is too prominent to inspire confidence; and we are not yet prepared to trust to their hands, in the present crisis, the fortunes of the Republic; especially, since they have shown themselves too feeble to arrest the progress of sectional fanaticism at the North, or realize their boast, that they, and they alone, can protect the South.

5. We hold it to be the patriotic duty of all conservative citizens, whether of the North, South, East, or West, to unite, and secure at the ballot-box the recognition of the principles which are here announced, as proper for the administration of our Government. Our political institutions are eminently American—without a precedent in the past, or a parallel in the present, and we must look to the maintenance of them, and not outside of it, for the rules that are to guide us in the management of our affairs. A steady adherence to their fundamental principles will protect us from sectional strife and intestine war; and will enable us to steadily march forward in the path of National progress, and secure the development of our great resources, by such fostering legislation, on the part of the General Government, as may be in accordance with the Constitution.

6. We maintain, that the Union is to be preserved at all hazards;—that there is no probability of any oppression being attempted in this Confederacy, for a successful resistance to which our institutions, State or Federal, cannot furnish adequate means. If we must forcibly assert our rights, we will do so within the Union.

7. We invite all who approve these views to meet their fellow-citizens from other counties of our Commonwealth in Convention, at Frankfort, on the 23d instant, and take such counsel as may be wise and expedient for the assertion and promulgation of these principles.

Resolved, That we most heartily approve the action of the twenty three American and Whig members of Congress in refusing to affiliate with either of the sectional parties, and especially do we commend our own Representative, Hon. ROBERT MALLORY for the firm and patriotic stand he has taken as a Union-loving conservative man.

Resolved, That in our distinguished fellow-citizen, JOHN J. CRITTENDEN, we recognize a statesman of profound and enlarged views, eminently fitted for the Chief Magistracy of our Union.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the Shelby News, and that the Frankfort Commonwealth and Louisville Journal be requested to copy them.

JAS. L. CALDWELL, Chairman.

R. W. DAVIS, Secretary.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.

Its wonderful effects and consequent popularity—perhaps no article in the history of the Materia Medica ever acquired the same patronage, was subjected to the same number of severe and different tests, and met with no fewer failures at the Mustang Liniment. It has justly been styled a Panacea for all external Wounds, Cuts, Swellings, Sprains, Bruises, or Eruptions on Skin or Breast. It is so far a medicine of surprising virtue, that Physicians are compelled to prescribe it, and from some remarkable cases of Chronic and Distorted Rheumatic cases it has naturally attracted much attention from the first scientific minds of the age. No family can afford to be without a bottle of the Mustang Liniment in the house. Beware of imitations. The genuine is sold by respectable Dealers in all parts of the world.

AYER'S Ague Cure,

FOR THE SPEEDY CURE OF Intermittent Fever, or Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever, Chills, Fever, Dumb
Ague, Periodical Headache, or Bilious Headache, and Bilious Fevers, indeed for the whole class of diseases originating in biliary derangement, caused by the Malaria of miasmatic countries.
No one remedy is louder called for by the necessities of the American people than a sure and safe cure for Fever and Ague. Such are now enabled to offer, with a perfect certainty that it will eradicate the disease, and with assurance, founded on proof, that no harm can arise from its use in any quantity.

That which protects from or prevents this disorder must be of immense service in the communities where it prevails. Prevention is better than cure, for the patient escapes the risk which he must run in violent attacks of this baleful distemper. This "Cure" expels the miasmatic poison of Fever and Ague from the system and prevents the development of the disease, if taken on the first approach of its premonitory symptoms. It is not only the best remedy ever yet discovered for this class of complaints, but also the cheapest. The large quantity we supply for a dollar brings it within the reach of every body; and in bilious districts, where Fever and Ague prevails, every body should have it and use it freely for cure and protection.
It is hoped this will place it within the reach of all—the poor as well as the rich.
A great superiority of this remedy over any other ever discovered for the speedy and certain cure of Intermittents is, that it contains no Quinine or mineral, consequently it produces no quinine or other injurious effects whatever upon the constitution. Those cured by it are left as healthy as if they had never had the disease.

Fever and Ague is not alone the consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of disorders arise from its irritation, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Gout, Asthma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysterics, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis, and Derangement of the Stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause, put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "Cure" expels the poison from the blood, and consequently cures them all alike. It is an invaluable protection to immigrants and persons travelling or temporarily residing in the malarious districts. If taken occasionally or daily while exposed to the infection, that will be excreted from the system, and cannot accumulate in sufficient quantity to ripen into disease. Hence it is even more valuable for protection than cure, and will ever suffer from Intermittents, if they avail themselves of the protection this remedy affords.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them.
Their penetrating properties search, and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitality. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down by pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and invigorating.
Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certain of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Constipation, Heartburn, Headache arising from disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Painful and Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulence, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions. They are an excellent alternative for the renovation of the blood and the restoration of tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate.
While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and procures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

ATION, DYSPEPSIA, DIARRHÆA, CONSTI-

The Iron being absorbed by the system, and circulating through the whole system, no part of the body can escape their truly wonderful influence.
The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can for a moment be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, impression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. In all cases of female debility (due to albus, chlorosis, &c.), its effects are delightfully renovating. No remedy has ever been discovered in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects. Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.
As a grand stomachic and general restorative it has no superior.
